GREENHOUSE MANIFESTO

Fried Fish's Greenhouse Manifesto

The whole Global Warming is a hoax

Don't let yourself be fooled by the power that controls us and let you talked into one huge guilt complex by them, for blaming us for global weather changes.

The weather is changing - globally. But it's been doing this for over centuries and it will be doing this long after the last human that has been vaporized.

Nature is not something that can be controlled, nature is not a constant it is an ever changing evolution of life in all sorts of forms and shapes. It can't be controlled like what they want you to believe. It's a big scam screen to hide the real issue here, the huge amount of human pollution! It's the major corporations that make us believe we are the blame while they are the real problem here.

Part is that the pollution of the major corporations is reaching a critical stage - THE EARTH IS CHECKING!

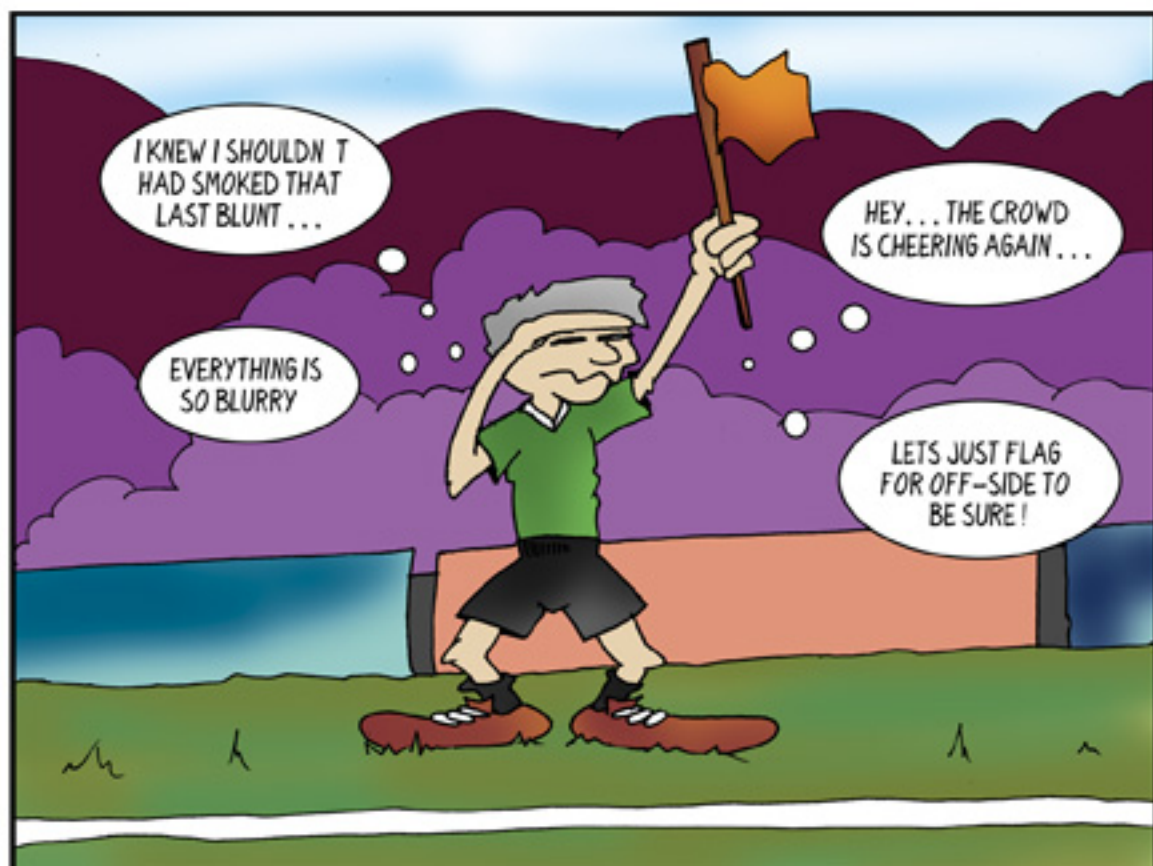

Every drop of seawater contains traces of plastic and let's not forget about what is living in this plastic ocean. A real situation, already known for numerous years is the existence of a huge plastic continent in the Pacific Ocean. The floating garbage disposal is twice the size of the continental United States, stretching from Hawaii to Japan.

These are the real issues that should be tackled, once the oceans are gone, the earth is gone. So, let's pop this CO₂ bubble and get real with the real issues!
